

ABSTRACT

HA-1544

MASON-DIXON LINE: MILESTONE NO. 28(30)
Cardiff, Maryland/Delta, Pennsylvania vicinity
Public/private

1766 (reset 1902)

Milestone No. 28(30) marks Mason and Dixon's 28th mile west of the initial stone at the northeast corner of Maryland, the beginning point of their 230.228-mile West Line, the longest of their survey lines run and marked to define the boundary between the English provinces of Maryland and Pennsylvania. The monument, first set in 1766, is an embellished oolitic limestone post with a low pyramidal top, quarried and carved in England, originally measuring about 12" square by about 4½' long, and cut to stand about 3' above ground. Reset/^{more securely}in its original site in 1902, it now stands about 1' above ground, is in very good condition, unaltered. Although the capital letter M on the south (Maryland) side has been chipped, the letter P on the north (Pennsylvania) side and other embellishments are clear and intact except for minor chips along all edges and top corners, and the surfaces are comparatively unweathered. On the federal and state levels, this monument is primarily significant as one of a series of 135 original Mason and Dixon monuments standing along the West Line, commonly known since Civil War times as the Mason-Dixon Line, notable for its historical impact, and/^{the}innovative boundary survey methods utilized. Locally, No. 28(30) is also significant as one of 17 original monuments marking the present Harford/York county boundary, amongst a diminishing number of objects and structures with a visually identifiable relationship to our colonial and Civil War heritage.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Milestone No. 28(30) marks Mason and Dixon's 28th horizontal mile west of the initial stone at the northeast corner of Maryland, the beginning point of their 230.228-mile West Line. It is an original milestone of 1766, in very good condition, unaltered, and at its original site (although reset in 1902).

The area here is still rural, with scattered houses along the main roads, but at the east edge of a ^{wooded} unusual slate ridge, part of an area "worked as early as 1750 for local use," by ^{the} Welsh, and continuing there as late as 1957. (Note ^{the} Slate Ridge identified on Mason and Dixon's map.) The site is located in Harford County's Election District 5, Peach Bottom Township of York County; about 1 mile east of the point along Main Street where the two towns of Cardiff, Maryland, and Delta, Pennsylvania meet; ^{about 1400'} off the west side of Ridge Road (PA T-596); about 1000' west of the George Roberts house; near the top (south edge) of a ^{hill covered by a young} deciduous woods, about 40' north of a woodland path. It cannot be seen from any road, nor readily from closeby; and is protected by this seclusion.

The monument, as with all original Mason and Dixon West Line monuments, is an embellished, oolitic limestone post with a low pyramidal top, and was quarried and carved in England. Originally measuring about 12" square by about 4½' long, cut to stand about 3' above ground, ^{it} was reset ^{more firmly} in 1902, at the time of the 1900-03 Resurvey of the Maryland-Pennsylvania boundary, to stand about 1½' above ground, with the remainder of the stone surrounded by a collar of concrete below ground. It remains about 12" square, but about 1' high, and with the concrete foundation a little exposed. The ^{capital} letter P on the north (Pennsylvania) side is intact and clear; but the capital letter M on the south (Maryland) side and its circle panel are chipped; otherwise most of the fluting and margins remain on all four sides, and the top planes rising to a centered apex are clearly defined. There are small chips along all edges and the top corners, but comparatively little weathering of surfaces.

(see Thematic Group National Register nomination form for descriptions of the original Mason and Dixon monuments and the 1900-03 Resurvey method of resetting them)

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Milestone No. 28(30) is significant on the federal and state levels primarily as one of a series of 135 original Mason and Dixon monuments still standing along their ^{230.228-mile} West Line, commonly known since Civil War times as the Mason-Dixon Line, notable for its historical impact and innovative boundary survey methods. The site was preliminarily surveyed in 1765 and monumented the following year, where it remains to this day, although reset more securely in 1902 during the course of the 1900-03 Resurvey of the Maryland-Pennsylvania boundary. Individually, and as one of 17 original monuments marking the present Harford/York county boundary, No. 28(30) is also significant locally as one of a diminishing number of objects and structures with a visually identifiable relationship to our colonial and Civil War heritage.
